

Stefan Multer

05.12.2011

email: stefanmulter@directbox.com

Job Advertisement

Law Student Assistant

I am a German lawyer and work on South East European transformation processes and I am looking for a law student for a minimum period of three months to support my research activities and other legal projects.

The work will mainly consist of conducting research via means of internet and other legal sources as well as writing and preparation of different documents. The work demands about five to ten working hours a week, depending on the current project.

Requirements: Advanced law study period, very good command of English and/or German, internet access and access to legal sources, self-motivated working and solid knowledge of European Union Law.

Your advantages: An independent and personal time management, the flexibility of working from home, a rewarding insight into different legal fields relating to European Union Law and a competitive paying.

How to apply: Please apply solely via email attaching the common documents to: stefanmulter@directbox.com (Subject of your email: Law Student Assistant)

Looking forward to your application,

Stefan Multer