PROGRAMME 2022
Campus Emdrup

22nd – 23rd August 2022

Dear new students,

We congratulate you on your admission and look forward to welcoming you to Educational Anthropology and Globalisation at DPU, Aarhus University, Campus Emdrup!

BEFORE, DURING AND AFTER THE STUDY START DAYS

To give you a good start, we have planned a programme for you and your fellow students from Monday the 22nd to Tuesday the 23rd of August 2022, which gives you a good introduction to all the practicalities, gain insight into the academic environment you will be a part of, and of course to meet your fellow students, faculty, and current students. In addition to the two days, there will be other activities both before and after the study start days which we strongly recommend you participate in so you can get the best possible start at DPU.

As the lectures in the entire 1st semester and most of the 2nd semester take place in English, and as we get Erasmus students on the team, most of the study start program will also be in English (see program below).

Before the study start days

In order to get ready for your studies, we recommend that you orientate yourself very well over the summer on the following links (hyperlinks inserted – choose text in English):

- Study@Au – AU's digital introduction programme for new students. It will take you through all the important facts about AU, studylife, it-systems, student societies etc. It's an online module and you will find it at Brightspace next to your other modules. It takes approx. 1 hour

The further study welcome at DPU.

From here, the semester begins and with it your lectures. Module 1 begins already on Wednesday August 24th at 12.00-15.00, where you will meet in A210 and be introduced to working and collaborating in study groups by ass. professor Hanne Adriansen. This forms a central part of both Module 1 and the entire AEG/UAG programme.

During Module 1, you will experience other offers that will get you ready for your further studies, including the library. On "Studieportalen" you can also get an overview of the ongoing events from the Student Counseling and Arts Career.

LIFE AS A FULL TIME STUDENT AT DPU

What does it mean to be a full-time student? A full-time study corresponds to 30 ECTS per term. Turned into hours, the European credit transfer and credit accumulation system says that 1 ECTS point is 27.5 hours – or approx. 825 hours in one semester. This roughly corresponds to about 40 hours a week for the duration of a semester (20-22 weeks).

You will find that there are some study activities that are initiated by teachers and others that you and/or your group must initiate. You will experience some activities with your teachers and others without. Finally, you will experience activities both on campus, off-campus and virtually. But it is also important for us to emphasize that a study is more than the sum of teaching and preparation. It is also to participate in other offers that can put your studies into perspective. You may attend professional debate cafes, student policy meeting, workshops at Arts Career or the library etc. Maybe you read the articles and complete the exercises that are on Studypedia. It could also be that you have a meeting with the Student Council, or you use the city's cultural offerings to put your studies into perspective. In the model below, we call this time "Student Life".

For example, the hours can be distributed as follows:

Modul 1 (15 ECTS)		Modul 2 (15 ECTS)
60 hours	Lectures	55 hours	Lectures
260 hours	Preparation: reading, group work, e-learning, preparation of presentations, feedback, writing exercises, etc.	230 hours	Preparation: reading, group work, e-learning, preparation of presentations, feedback, writing exercises, etc.
65 hours	Exam – analytical paper and written essay	100 hours	Exam – project
25 hours	Student Life	30 hours	Student Life
410 timer	Total number of hours	415 timer	Total number of hours
