

Aarhus University
School of Communication and Culture
Department of English

Intro Day for English Master Students 2022 PROGRAMME

Tuesday 30th August
Mogens Zieler Stuen, Studenterhus Aarhus
Nordre Ringgade 3, 8000 Aarhus

---

09.30 – 10.00	Welcome back! Coffee / Tea & study group dating
10.00 – 10.15	Introduction to the English Master's degree (Stephen Joyce)
10.15 – 10.30	The benefits of an internship (Mark Eaton)
10.30 – 10.45	Kandidatforeningen for English MA students
10.45 – 11.00	Break
11.00 – 12.15	Student experiences from the 3 rd /profile semester Internship: (Line Bang Jensen) Internship: (Marie Søndergaard) Teacher-profile & Gymnasie-internship (Josefine Orby)
12.15 – 12.45	Break
12.45 – 13.00	Introduction to Arts Career
13.00 – 13.25	Career presentation: Communication, Green Innovation (Elisabeth Gade)
13.25 – 13.50	Career presentation: Teaching for a Living (Mette Krause)
13.50 – 14.00	Evaluation & Rounding off

MA Introduction Day Autumn 2022

Dear MA Students,

Welcome to the introduction day (RUS) for MA students. At the Department of English, the introduction day will consist of general introductions to the MA A-line, the MA B-line and the MA Minor, guest talks from English alumni and a presentation by Arts Career.

The day will also include introductions to the first-semester courses. All A-line students should attend the introduction for Evaluating Evidence while all MA Minor students should attend the introduction for Disciplinary Perspectives. Students should also attend the introductions for the two (out of three) obligatory courses that they have chosen:

- Current Topics in the Study of Literature in English
- Current Topics in English Linguistics
- Current Topics in History and Social and Culture

In preparing for the first sessions (and for the semester as a whole), students should consult the course conferences on Brightspace under the course site.

These introductions will lay the foundation for the semester and prepare you for the MA as a whole.

It's a new beginning for everyone in that respect, but it's especially a new beginning for you, as you embark on your MA studies. Make the most of your fellow students, get involved in the Department (for example, through KAF/Kandidatforeningen), and take advantage of the extraordinarily wide range of expertise lurking in the brains of our academic staff. You have all managed to get through the BA process, and now you can look forward to exploring more advanced and specialized topics, while preparing yourself to burst upon the outside world (in a couple of years' time) with your own unique combination of knowledge, talent, and good old AU English traditions.

All the best,

Dominic Rainsford

Head of Department