Project-based internship, cand.merc.

Content

Subject to prior approval, a project-based internship can form part of the MSc study programme as part of the electives block.

A project-based internship includes

- > A stay in a company
- > Participation in the online Career Management Skills course
- > A report and from autumn 2020 an oral defence

The purpose of the project-based internship is to give you the opportunity to apply, and reflect on using, the knowledge, skills and competencies you have acquired through your M.Sc. in Economics and Business Administration specialisation in real life practice. You are thus trained in the role of being a reflective practitioner, who, on the one hand, participates in performing relevant practical tasks and, on the other hand, reflects on them from an analytical position.

Register the companies/organisations that you collaborate with - and improve your career prospects
