Full academic program	Undergraduate level: To meet the minimum graduation requirement of 120 academic hours within the eight-semester limit, students should average 15-16 credit hours each semester. Most courses are 3 credit units. A full course load per semester is 5 courses (15 credit units) Graduate level: A course load of 9 semester hours constitutes a normal full semester program for a graduate student. This is lower than the normal undergraduate load because of the extensive reading, independent thinking, and individual research required of graduate students.
