Course catalogue	http://www.washington.edu/students/crscat/
Course level	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 100-level courses should be suitable for college freshmen. • 200-level courses are directed toward college sophomores, though they are open to qualified freshmen. • 300-level courses are directed primarily at juniors and seniors. Ordinarily they are not appropriate for well-prepared graduate students. • 400-level courses should be appropriate for either seniors or graduate students. • 400-500 Parallel Courses Courses that are likely to be taken by both undergraduate students and graduate students should have both an undergraduate course number and a graduate course number per the Provost's 400-500 Parallel Course Guidelines. Graduate courses (500-899) must conform to the standards set by the Graduate School of the University of Washington. Reserved numbers for graduate courses are: 600-Independent Study or Research, 601-Internship, 700-Master's Thesis, 800-Doctoral Dissertation, and 801-Practice Doctorate Project/Capstone. http://depts.washington.edu/registra/curriculum/assigningCourseNumbers.php
